MY PAYMENT NETWORK ANNOUNCES PARTNERSHIP WITH NAVIANCE

Agreement Integrates Electronic Payment Functionality and Online K12 Planning and Advisory Services

CORTE MADERA, Calif. and WASHINGTON D.C – September 13, 2006 – My Payment Network, Inc. announced today an exclusive distribution and licensing partnership between its service SchoolPay®, a premier electronic payment service for schools, and Naviance, the leading provider of planning and advising systems for secondary schools. Naviance will integrate the SchoolPay<sup>SM</sup> service into Counselor's Office, part of their WorkspaceK12 suite of applications. The electronic payment functionality will be offered under the brand "Naviance Payments powered by SchoolPay." This partnership expands SchoolPay's distribution reach to include school districts throughout the country, while the integration of electronic payment functionality into Counselor's Office provides Naviance clients with compelling and streamlined administrative functionality.

Naviance Payments powered by SchoolPay enables schools using Counselor's Office to collect payments on-line for any school-related fees such as test registration fees, yearbook purchases, or school pictures. Parents will be able to make on-line payments via credit card or electronic check.

"We are thrilled to be partnering with Naviance," said David Dunaway, CEO of My Payment Network. "Naviance is a leader in developing easy-to-use web applications that support secondary schools through course, college, and career planning. Payments for testing and counseling needs are a common part of the information that is communicated to parents through the Naviance systems. Through our partnership, Naviance will not only be streamlining work in the counselor's office, but they will also be streamlining administrative work in the school's business office and the administrative work parents face managing their children's school related payments."

"Schools collect hundreds of thousands of dollars in fees for transcripts, test preparation courses, standardized tests and more each year,” said Stephen M. Smith, CEO of Naviance. “Naviance Payments powered by SchoolPay eliminates paper receipts and trips to the bank, and it improves security since schools won't have cash sitting around. This is a service that will make a real difference to schools.”
